

2nd Webinar Series: Reimagining Supply Chains in the Digital Economy

Many organizations were already transforming through digital means pre-pandemic, before COVID-19 accelerated the pace of business and adoption of digitalisation worldwide. These four webinars focus on the vital role of digital and innovation in today's businesses and particularly, supply chains, which have had to cope with COVID-19. We hear how top executives have led on digital initiatives, how supply chains across industries have evolved to meet the disruptions, and the special challenge of cybersecurity.
